Answer Key

1. Under the Articles of Confederation, each state's voting power in Congress was equal, one vote per state.

Why: One state, one vote: Rhode Island equaled Virginia. Population-based seats came with the House under the Constitution.

2. Which of the following was a power the Articles of Confederation government used successfully?

Standardizing weights and measures

Why: Weights, measures and coin values worked. It could not collect taxes or regulate interstate trade, and it had no army.

3. Ratification of the Articles of Confederation was delayed until 1781 mainly because landless states demanded that states with western claims give them up.

Why: Once Virginia and the others gave up their western claims, Maryland ratified. The Articles had no president to argue over.

4. Under the Land Ordinance of 1785, a section of land contained 640 acres, or one square mile.

Why: A township is 6 miles by 6 miles, 36 sections; each section is one square mile, 640 acres.

5. Under the Northwest Ordinance of 1787, a territory gained an elected territorial legislature when it had 5,000 adult free males.

Why: 60,000 is the statehood stage. The smallest-state population rule was Jefferson's 1784 plan.

6. Which of the following was a cause of the economic depression of the 1780s?

Britain closed markets and placed tariffs on American goods.

Why: Outside the British Empire, Americans lost old markets. The Revenue Act and the Bank came later, and the Embargo is a later unit.

7. At the Constitutional Convention, George Washington presided over the Convention.

Why: Madison wrote the Virginia Plan. Washington became president of the United States in 1789.

8. The New Jersey Plan proposed a one-house Congress with one vote per state.

Why: The small states' plan kept the Articles' equal voting. Both houses by population was the Virginia Plan.

9. Under the Constitution as written in 1787, Congress could NOT tax exports.

Why: The Commercial Compromise gave Congress trade power but banned export taxes.

10. Which group opposed ratification of the Constitution because it gave the central government too much power?

The Anti-Federalists

Why: Federalists supported ratification. The Democratic-Republicans formed later, in the 1790s.

11. Washington's use of the heads of the executive departments as his advisers set the precedent for the presidential cabinet.

Why: The cabinet is not in the Constitution; it began as Washington's precedent.

12. Supporters of Hamilton's plan to pay the national debt at full value argued that it would establish the credit of the new government and tie creditors to its success.

Why: Paying original holders was Madison's rejected proposal. The plan strengthened the national government.

13. Jefferson and Madison opposed the Bank of the United States mainly because they believed the Constitution did not give Congress the power to create it.

Why: Strict construction: a bank was convenient, not necessary, so not allowed.

14. The Whiskey Rebellion and Shays' Rebellion were similar in that both were protests by farmers against taxes.

Why: Both were farmer tax revolts. Shays' Rebellion was put down by a privately funded state militia, and Whiskey ended with two convictions and pardons.

15. Washington's response to the Citizen Genêt Affair and the war between France and Britain was to keep the United States neutral, or impartial.

Why: The U.S. was not ready for war. Genêt's appeals to the public broke diplomatic rules.

16. Democratic-Republicans attacked the Jay Treaty mainly because it failed to stop British impressment of American sailors.

Why: It got the forts back and avoided war, but left impressment and neutral rights unresolved.

17. In his Farewell Address, Washington warned Americans against permanent alliances with foreign nations and party spirit.

Why: He favored trade but few political ties. The address was printed, not spoken.

18. Which of the following was a result of the XYZ Affair?

A surge of anti-French feeling in the United States

Why: The Quasi-War that followed was never declared. Jay came earlier, and Jefferson was vice president after 1796.

19. The Alien Friends Act of 1798 allowed the president to deport any alien he judged dangerous.

Why: 14 years was the Naturalization Act; wartime arrests the Alien Enemies Act; malicious writing the Sedition Act.

20. In the election of 1800, the tie between Jefferson and Burr was decided by the House of Representatives, with one vote per state.

Why: Under the original rules a tie went to the House. Hamilton backed Jefferson.
